Executive Summaries, 2011 Governor's Technology Winners and Honorable Mentions

Secretary of Technology Jim Duffey and Chief Information Officer Sam Nixon presented the 2011 Governor's Technology Awards at a lunchtime ceremony at COVITS on Sept. 26. Fourteen winners and 10 honorable mentions were honored in nine categories in 2011. The following executive summaries were submitted by the honorees as part of their official program entry.

Virginia Commonwealth University
WEAVEonline

 Honorable Mention
Category: Innovation in Higher Education

Executive Summary:

WEAVEonline is an innovative web-based tool that was developed at Virginia Commonwealth University. This technology helps manage accreditation, assessment, planning, and quality improvement processes for colleges and universities and has been a transformational addition to the higher education community toolbox. It allows colleges and universities to automate the capture and analysis of information to support continuing improvement efforts in individual programs and services throughout the institution. WEAVEonline has been implemented at many Virginia higher education institutions including Virginia Commonwealth University, University of Virginia, Virginia Tech, George Mason, Longwood, Roanoke College and others. WEAVEonline has been instrumental in improving efficiency in administration through innovative Information Technology.
